the thought that this great American doctrine of protection is aspeciated with wages and work, and linked with home, with ramily, with country, and with general prosperity. That, fellow oitisens, is what all these demonstratians signify. They mean that the people of this country want an industrial policy that is for American and for Americana. [Applause.]

"They mean that they intend to return to that policy which lies at the foundation of our national prosperity, which is the safest prop to the national treasury and which is the bulwark of our industrial independence and financial honor. I thank you, Mr. Curtis, and gentlemen of Wheeling, for the friendly call. I thank you most heartily for the kind words you have spoken. I wish you all a safe return home, and I wish for all my countrymen a speedy return to the old and happier and better days we used to have." [Three lusty cheers were given to the Major.]

Then the Wheeling business men and officials wish for all my countrymon a speedy return to the old and happier and better days we used to have." [Three lusty cheers were given to the Major.]

Then the Wheeling business men and officials got possession of the lawn. Congressman B. B.
Dovener extended their congratulations.
Major McKiniey responded:
"CAPTAIN DOVENER AND MY FELLOW CITTgens of Wheeling: I have been visiting Wheeling for a good many years, and I am giad to have you at last return my frequent calls, [Laughter and applause.] And apon every occasion that I have visited your city and State it was to carry the banner of the Republican party and speak for its immortal principles.
I remember having gone through the State in 1894, when that 'little mountain State' was transferred from the column of our opponents to the column of the Republican party. [Applause.] I have not seen you since, and therefore take this first occasion to congratulate you for that splendid victory.
You put four Republican Representatives at Washington, and you sent that splendid statesman and magnificent man, Stephen B. Elkins, to the Senate lloud cheers], and added one more vote to the Republican column in the great parliamentary body of the country. Am I not right in saying, my fellow citizens, that you
"Yes."]
"That's what you did two years ago. You right in saying, my fellow citizens, that you have come to stay with us? [Loud cries of "Yes."]

"That's what you did two years ago. You mean to keep on doing until the great Republican party shall be brought back into power in every branch of the Federal Government, and until we have returned to that glorious prosperity from which we ran away about four years ago. [Laughter and applaue.] I thank you, my countrymen, for this visit. I recall with feelings of emotion the ref-erence made by your Congressman and my friend, Capt. Davener, to our first meeting over in the Kanahaw Valley. We were then in the midst of war. The States then were in active rebellion against the Federal Union. Thirty-three years have gone by: the war is all over, and the glories of that war belonged to the vanquished as well as to the victors. It is the common heritage of all Americans, and to-day we only know the North and the South as a geographic division. We are all one in devetion to the Union and the flag, one in striving to make the nation more relegions than ever before. [Cheers.]

We are all one in devotion to the Union and the flag, one in striving to make the nation more glorious than ever before. [Cheers.]

"I thank you for this call and will be glad to pay my personal respects to each and every one of you."

Somebody else brought up a magnificent box of roses with the compliments of the Ohio County, Republican Club of West Virginia. Then all formality ceased, and the remainder Then all formality ceased, and the remainder of the time was given up to pandemonium.

Gen, Hornee Forter during the morning spoke to Major McKiniey enthusiastically of Mr. Hobart, the Vice-Fresidential candidate. He is a captal candidate in every way, "said he." He is a manof fine presence, dignified and handsome. He has had parliamentary experience as speaker of the New Jersey House and President of the Senate, and makes a fine presiding officer. He is near caough to be aimost one of us, and New York is for him."

It came out in the course of the conversation that Major McKinley was but slightly acquainted with Mr. Hobart, having met him only once, some years age.

ome years ago. Congratulatory messages by wire have about ceased arriving, but the mail this morning brought in a great number. Among them was the following letter from ex-President Harrison: the following retter from ex-pressures that the same of the following in the great extend to you my hearty congraturations upon your nomination, and to express my confidence that the people will in Kovember ratify the work of the St. Louis Convention. Please present my respects to Mrs. McKinley, HESZAMIS HARRISON.

The report that the New Jersey delegation, with Mr. Hobart, the Vice-Presidential candisate, were in a railroad wreck near Pittsburgh, taused some anxiety to Mr. McKinley and those at the house when it was received. It was felt however, that there must be some mistake as to the presence of the New Jersey people. Major McKinley's stelegram to Mr. Hobart, in an inverte the latter's letter of congratulation, and inviting him to visit Canton before going home evidently did not reach Mr. Hobart yesterday, and it was repeated to-day to Paterson.

PLATT AND DEPEN BACK.

No brass band greeted Thomas C. Platt on his return from St. Louis last evening. The gentlemen who had begun to arrange for a demonstration reception had been called off. Mr. Platt came on his private car attached to the regular Baltimore and Ohlo train which got in at 6:30 o'clock.

His travelling companions were Chairman Charles W. Hackett of the Republican State Committee and his son Fred, Louis F. Payne, Congressman B. B. Odell, Jr., and J. Sloat Fassett. Mr. Platt was the freshest-looking man of the party. With a three days' growth of beard Mesars. Hackett, Fassett, and Odeil were not beautiful. They were all full of predictions of Republican victory at the polls.

"I am too tired to talk now," said Mr. Platt. "Just give me a little time. I am going to do a tle talking next Tuesday night at Carnegie Music Hall on the issues of the campaign, and I don't care to say much now, save that we are bound to win with our platform and our candidates. Deacon Hackett was the only pilgrim to dis play a McKinley badge, but his was hig enough for the six. It was a medallion portrait of the Obloman pendant from a big bronze bar.

Ain't it a peach?" he asked with much pride Mr. Platt and his party were the first of the delegates to return. They went at once to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where, after dinner, Mr. Platt went to bed to get needed rest before pre paring the speech which he will deliver at the ratification meeting of the Republican County Committee next Tuesday night.

It was nearly two hours later that the B. & O. special arrived, bringing the Republican Aldermen, Jake Worth and his Brooklyn contingent, and the other New Yorkers who went by that returning delegates were McKinley buttons or

Mr. Worth and ex-Police Justice Jacob M. Patterson were exceptions. The others explained that they got away from St. Lonis in such a hirry after the nominations were made that they did not have time to procure badges. Dr. Chauncey M. Depew arrived last high in his special car, attached to the State Committee's special train over the New York Central. This train brought most of the regular delecates from up the State, and dropped them off at stations along the line. It did not get into the Grand Central Depot until 8 P. M. Edward Lauterbach and his wifegot off at their summer home, Dobbs Ferry.

Dr. Depew said of the situation so far as the New York delecation was concerned:

"The spirit of harmony prevait", and the success of McKlinley and Hobart is assured."

This was all he would say about national politics, and he was asked for his epinion about the contest for the Republican nomination for Governor.

"Well, that matter is in a state of chaos," said Mr. Worth and ex-Police Justice Jacob M.

This was all he would say about national politics, and he was asked for his opinion about the contest for the Republican nomination for Governor.

"Well, that matter is in a state of chaos," said he, laughingly, "and I am not ready to talk about the possible outcome. I hear that Warner Miller, in a speech at Syracuse this morning, said that the war is on. Had we not hetter wait and see what the outcome of the war will be?" It was nearly 8 o'clock when the special train of the Milholiand McKiniey Leaguers got into Weehawken over the West Shore Railroad, There were just sixty aboard of the sixty-five men who went to St. Louis on the train a week before. John E. Milholiand was dropped off at Catskiii. The other four missing ones were not accosmical for. Assessor John W. Jacobuc's Ninth Ward Pioneer Corps and a band met the delegation and escorted them to the State Club, in East Twenty-second street. A big parade and a demonstration of great proportions had been promised, but the result was disappointing. There is not to be the slightest delay in the inauguration of the McKiniey and Hobart campaign in this State. Uncle Charley Hackett, Chairman of the State Committee, had hardly set his feet on Manhattan Island last evening before he announced that he proposed to call his committee together about July 1 to arrange the preliminaries. The meeting will be held in the Fifth Avenue Holel. One of the things to be done will be to arrange for a ratification meeting, to be held in this city under the direction of the State Committee. Mr. Hackett said:

"The fact that Mr. Platt was the chief instrument in securing the adoption of the money plank in the platform, and that it so clearly reflects the desires and wishes of the party and the business interests of the State Committee in inaugurating the campaign. I hear that an attempt has been made by John S. Wise to be little the part Mr. Platt played in getting a gold plank into the St. Louis platform. I want to say that any such attempt must fall, because it is a matter of pre is possible that the State Committee in will issue a call for the State Conditional Committee and its first and the Governor and the Governor to an allow would not be precipitating the erastorial campaign if that were done."

Air. Hackett, "for there were seventlemen in St. Louis who when Cheers and Handshakes at Trenton for New Jersey's Candidate.

TRENTON, June 20 .- Garret A. Hobart, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, and the New Jersey delegation to St. Louis were welcomed back to the State by about 500 enthusiastic people at the Trenton railroad station

The train was due at 1:37, and a large crowd and the Seventh Regiment band gathered there, but were notified that the train was more than three hours behind time. The crowd dispersed, but reassembled about 4 o'clock and waited patiently for the train.

At 6:55 it rolled into the station, and as the band played "Hall to the Chief' the cheering crowd made a rush forward to see the candiband played "Hall to the Chief" the cheering crowd made a rush forward to see the candidate. Then it was discovered that Mr. Hobart and his party were in the rear car, and that the music and cheers had been wasted. It took two or three minutes to get atraightened out.

Mr. Hobart stood on the rear piatform and shook hands with and bowed to as many as could reach him during the few minutes the train was held, and waved his hand and smiled his thanks as the journey was resumed.

In the car with Mr. Hobart were Franklin Murphy, John Kean, Elisha B. Gaddis, J. Franklin Morphy, John Kean, Elisha B. Gaddis, J. Franklin Fort, Hobart Tuttle, and Congressmen Parker, Fowler, and McEwen.

Parkeron, June 20.—Garret A. Hobart arrived in Paterson about 8 o'clock tonight. When he alighted from the train he was greeted with great enthusiasm. His carriage was in waiting and a large basket of flowers had been placed in it from Essex county, inscribed "12,000 majority for McKinley and Hobart." Hobart Tuttle, private secretary to Gov. Griggs; John R. Beam, Albert Wilcox, and Arthur B. Pierce, Chairman of the Passaic County Republican Committee, accompanied Mr. Hobart in his carriage to his home. A number of friends of Mr. Hobart were gathered on the porch of his house to meet him. He kissed the women and shook; hands with the men, and then went instite with Mrs. Hobart. Mr. Hobart appeared tired and did not care to talk much. He said:

"It is the grannest platform ever drawn up."

then went inside with Mrs. Hobart. Mr. Hobart appeared tired and did not care to talk much. He said:

"It is the grandest platform ever drawn up. I will rest until Monday, and after conferring with Mr. McKinley will enter on an active with Mr. Mckinley will enter value campaign."

The announcement of Mr. Hobart's arrival was posted on a builetin in the telegraph office window. A large crowd was in front of the office and the news was a signal for wild cheering, after which the crowd got together a lot of frecrackers and these, with tin horns, soon published to the uninformed the news of Mr. Hobart's arrival.

Manager McAdoo of the Paterson Electric Railroad acting as metorman ran a big illuminated car through the principal streets, firecrackers being set off along the way. On Monday Paterson will demonstrate in earnest her pride in Mr. Hobart. Apolio Hall, which has been gapy decorated for the burpose, will be the scene of a monster mass meeting. Gov. Griggs will make an address, and, after a response by Mr. Hobart, the meeting will disperse and there will be a big parade.

LONDON FIEUR OF M'KINLEY. The Onty Point in Which They Agree is Distrust of the Candidate.

LONDON, June 20. - The leading weekly papers here criticise the results of the Republican Con vention at St. Louis chiefly from the point of finances and commerce. The Economist says impress people here with the belief that they sure the maintenance of the gold standard. The the existing tariff will unsettle trade.

The Statist says that despite the decision of the Convention in favor of sound money the election of Mr. McKinley will not assure the restoration of order in currency so long as the Senate is governed by a silverite majority. President Cleveland, it adds, has met the oppootton of the Senate by continual borrowing, and sition of the senate by continual corrowing, and Mr. McKinley will go on borrowing. He is certain to disturb trade by raising the customs duties. The United States, within seven years, has had three tariffs. Probably there will be a revolt against a new McKinley bill, but the country is threatened with a fourth tariff. The outlook, therefore, does not improve, but grows darker. Investors ought to leave American securities alone.

The Speciator declares that it is premature to assume that the Republicans will win. The Democratic Convention to be held at Chicago may, by a successful straiddle, attract the sliver rote.

The Saturday Review says that the St. Louis Convention ought to reassure business men. The triumphof silver would have been followed by a panic in the United States and here, which would have been the most disastrous financial crash known in history.

HERKIMER CELEBRATES.

fer to the Troubles in St. Louis.

HERKIMER, N. V., June 20. Herkimer celebrated the Republican nomination to-night and There was a great crowd present. Senator Miller spoke from the Court House. He disdicted a great Republican victory.

He also spoke of the candidates in high terms.
He made no reference to the contests at St.
Louis, aithough the Chairman, W. C. Frescott, declared that Herkimer county more than ever loved him for the enemies he had made.

Walden Gives a Receptionto Col. Bradley, NEWBURGH, June 20 .- A reception was given Col. Thomas W. Bradley, the original Jacobs of the McKinley forces in these parts, on his return home to Walden to-night. A public meeting was held yesterday, and all the leading men of the place fell over each other in their efforts to do him honor. To-day committees cleaned Newburgh merchants out of red fire and all kinds of pyrotechnics to make the jollification echo its noises way out to Canton, if possible. To-night the town was simply wild. A band of music added to the jubilee, and the streets of the place, added to the Jubilee, and the streets of the place, which has long been known as McKinleyville, were lighted up by bonfires. Col. Bradley made a speech from the bandstand in the centre of the village. Of course, he predicted McKinley's triumphant election.

On Monday evening next a parade and ratification meeting will be held in this city under the auspices of the B. R. Odell, Jr., Republican Association, which met last evening to arrange for it. Congressman Odell, Col. Bradley, and other speakers are expected to be present.

other speakers are expected to be present.

DES Mornes, Ia., June 20. A call was issued resterday afternoon to all Polk county silver men to meet in mass Convention on Thursday evening. It is signed by Judge C. C. Cole, Pres ident, and A. P. Lowery, Secretary of the Polk County Silver Club. There is talk of naming a full county silver ticket against the regular Re-publican ticket. It is expected that the Demo-crats and Populists will endorse it. The Repub-lican managers do not fear a wide defection. They are arranging for a ratification meeting next week.

A. P. A. Row Over Mckinley,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 20,-State President C. F. Sapp of the A. P. A. was a delegate to the National Republican Convention under Mc Kinley instructions. The A. P. A. National Adrisory Board had decided against McKinley, and as an A. P. A. member Sapp was oathbound to oppose him to the last. As the result of Sapp's action in voting for McKinley, charges are being prepared, which will be presented at the coming meeting, seeking to depose Sapp. T will be brought up on Monday night.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 20,-A prohibition mass meeting has been called for Lansing on July 3 to reorganize the State Central Committee in accordance with their new national ticket. State Secretary W. C. Sheppard says that both he and State Chairman Giberson will resign and join the new movement. Mr. Sheppard says that there are 20,000 prohibition votes in Michigan. Of these 18,000 are for silver and will make prohibition secondary to securing a silver victory.

Bradley Likes the McKinley Ticket, FRANKFORT, Ky., June 20.-Gov. Bradley and others of the State House contingent returned yesterday from the St. Louis Convention. The lovernor says he is well pleased with the result of the Convention, and since his withdrawal he has been most interested in seeing the adoption of the strong gold platform. He thinks McKin-ley. Hobart, and gold will sweep the country this fall.

POPULISTS WILL SUPPORT TELLER

Chairman Tanbeneck Says They Will Do It Regardless of Action of the Democrats. Sr. Louis, June 20.-The silver delegates who left the Convention were as busy yesterday as carnest men could be. Since the dra-matic incident of Thursday the Populists have pers a tive in endeavoring to profit by the bolt. A LACISTY called conference of Populist leaders was held at the Lindell Hotel yesterday. There were present Chairman Taubeneck of the National Committee; A. Rosselle, National Committeeman from Missouri; I. H. Davis, National Committeeman from Texas; Eugene Smith, National Committeeman from Illinois:

and a large number of local Populists. Chairman Taubeneck would not give the de-tails of the conference, but said that the principal topic discussed was how to proceed in ten-tails of the conference, but said that the principal topic discussed was how to proceed in tendering or accepting overtures from all the friends of free silver.

"The Populist party is perfectly neutral on the tariff question," said Chairman Taubeneck. "We will accept either a high or low tariff if the man or party meets our views on the silver question. That we consider he main question before our country to-day."

The Populists, according to Chairman Taubeneck, will support Senator Teller for the Presidency. This will be the substance of an address soon to be Issued by them. The document will be signed by nearly thirty of the party leaders. The decision to support Teller will be carried out, regardless of the action of the Democratic Convention at Chicago. The address does not anticipate Teller's nomination at Chicago, and in case Teller is not accepted at Chicago, he will be supported by the Populists as an independent silver candidate.

Chairman Taubeneck reviewed the situation and the probable outcome from his point of view to-day. The address which will be issued will not commit the Populist party, but it represents not less than 80 per cent. of the members, and will be agreed to without argument. It will be, therefore, a correct expression of the party policy. Said Mr. Taubeneck:

The Populists will support Teller. We do

"The Populists will support Teller. We do not deem his chances of nomination at Chicago good enough to receive serious consideration, and the address contemplates his independent candidacy. To nominate him the Democrats would be compelled to repudiate all their doctrines and traditions, except free silver.

"If Teller is an independent candidate, it is "If Teller is an independent candidate, it is my opinion that he will be elected. The Populists hold the balance of power in the silver ranks. They hold the balance of power in Kansas, Dakotas, Montana, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Texas, Georgia, Alabama, and North Carolina. Their undivided support means that Teller's chances for election are good. Teller will command the support of all the silver faction outside of the Democrats, and it is my opinion that the Chicago Convention will go all to pieces, as the gold men are going to make a desperato battle. In this event many silver Democrats will yote for him. I believe that the recent boit presages not only the defeat of McKinley, but the death of the Republicar, party."

A WAIL FROM ALTGELD.

He Says the Republican Platform Stands for Capital and Greed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 20 .- Gov. Altgeld yesterday was asked to give his impressions of the action of the St. Louis Convention. He diocre in character ever held by that great party, and showed that the party is now at the opposite pole from what it was when it nominated Lincoln. The Convention was noted for the scarcity of state-men and orators, and was manipulated in such a way that it will be known in history as 'Mack Hanna's trust.' Both of its Chairmen were corporation hired men.

"The platform can be summed up in two capital G's, told and Greed, and stands for paralysis and misery; and considering the antecedents of the candilate, and the manner in which he was put before the public, it is clear that he is to be only a servant who will carry out orders. that he is to be only a servant who will carry out orders.

"Long before November the ticket will have upon it the curse of the American people, and if the Democratic party will be true to its great mission and will neither straddle nor compromise, but stand for the interest, the welfare, and the rights of the great suffering masses, then the ides of November will witness the complete annihilation of that plurocratic as ociation which, without right or authority, calls itself the Republican party."

FUSION IN LOUISIANA.

Joint Electoral Ticket. NEW ORLEANS, June 20 .- A conference of eading Republicans and Populists was held to-day, at which arrangements were made for the Presidential campaign. It was decided, among other things, to establish a morning Republican daily paper in New Orleans.

Republicans and Populists Will Run a

The fusion which existed between the Popplists and the Republicans in the late State camists and the tepublicans in the late State campaign will be kept up in spite of their differences on the financial question, and there will be a joint electoral ticket decided between the two parties. As S. Pharr, the late Republican candidate for Governor, and other Republican leaders are for sliver. The new Republican paper will steer clear of the financial question, and the fight will be made on the issues of honest elections and protection of august.

The delegate from the St. Louis Convention

The delegates from the St. Louis Convention say that they convinced the McKinier leaders that Louisiana can be carried for McKinier, and that they will get ample financial assistance in the fight.
They promised 15,000 Republican majority in New Orleans and 3,000 in the sugar district of Southern Louisiana, which they say cannot be overcome in the northern part of the State.

MICHIGAN SILVERITES FOR TELLER Fred A. Baker Says the Colorado Man Will Be Nominated at Chicago.

DETROIT, June 20.-"In my opinion Senator Teller will be the nominee for President of the Democratic National party at their coming Convention at Chicago," said Fred A. Baket, one of the silver exponents of the Democratic party in Michigan to-day. "There is no doubt that silver will predominate at that great gathering, and its standard bearer will be a man who stands squarely on the issue. The fight will be between Bland and Teller."

Mr. Baker says that the seals of three of who stands squarely on the issue. The fight will be between fliand and Teller."

Mr. Baker says that the seats of three of Michigan's delegates at large and four district delegates to the National Convention will be contested. He is confident the silver contestants will be seated, and this will give the silver men the control of the delegation, and it will be voted as a unit for silver.

Mr. Baker says that if the Democratic National Committee endeavors to foil the wishes of the party there will be the biggest holt that ever happened in any party in this country, and that there will be two Conventions. He intimated that the Michigan silver delegates would be solidly for Teller, and would work hard for his nomination.

Mayor Worster's Opinion.

Mayor Wurster of Brooklyn said yesterday "I think McKinley will win, Still, the Repub-licans have no walkover, and they will have to work from now until election to secure success. Mr. Whitney would make a very strong candidate for the Democracy."

Teller to Speak in Topeka,

Topeka, Kan., June 20.-The Kansas City League is in communication with Senator Teller, who says he will stop at Topeka on his re-turn to Benver on next Wednesday to speak. This information has been sept out, and it is estimated that 20,000 people will come here on special trains to see and hear him.

Plans of the Shepardites, President Charles J. Patterson of the Shepardite organization in Brooklyn announced yesterday that if the organization did not get representation in the State Convention it would not send any delegates to the National Conven-tion. He declared also that should a silver plank he adopted at Chicago the Shepardite Democracy would not support the ticket. Democratic State Convention Mr. Whitney will go to-morrow night to Sar atoga, where he will meet Senators Hill and Murphy and other Democratic leaders.

The Tammany Hail special train for the State Convention will leave the Grand Central Station at 9:30 o'clock Theodoxy morning. There will be ten cars. The Purroy men will be put in two cars by themselves.

FAMILY'S SUNDAY DINNER LOST. Man Who Bought It West to Get a Drink

in two cars by themselves.

A large market basket containing a pair of chickens, a roast of beef, two bunches of asparagus, three heads of lettuce, two cauliasparagus, three heads of lettuce, two cauliflowers, pork, bacon, fruit cake, and several playthings for children was brought to the Church street police station last night by a very small boy.

"I didn't steal this, Sergeant," he said. "A man hired me at the corner of Greenwich and Murray streets to carry it to Broadway and Murray street, and told me to wait until he came. Then he went into a saloon. I waited there three hours. Then I brought the basket here." The Sergeant told the boy to come around this afternoon and he could have the good things if the owner hadn't appeared. The lad said he was Juseph Novaek, 17, of 27 Buffolk street.

EX-GOV. CAMPBELL SPEAKS

THAT MUST BE DONE AT CHICAGO TO ESCAPE DEFEAT. The Majority Must Concede and Concillate, and the Minority Must Yield and Concur-The Only Party that Can Uphold the Two Metals with Safety to Business. WASHINGTON, June 20.-Ex-Gov. James E.

Campbell of Ohlo was the orator this evening at a Democratic gathering under the auspices of the Inter-State Democratic Association at River View, a river resort on the Maryland side of the Potomac, fourteen miles below this city. Gov. Campbell commended the courage of departmental officials and employees in attending a Democratic meeting and making an open profession of their political faith. Speaking of the forthcoming Democratic Convention at Chicago,

Gov. Campbell said:
"If a stinging and lasting defeat would be avoided in November the majority at Chicago must concede and conciliate, while the minority must yield and concur. If sagactous, harmonious, and brotherly counsels shall not prevail, we go to inevitable defeat, and to a defeat like that of 1860, the result of our own stubborn and recalcitrant conduct. Let us pray that wisdom, prudence, and patriotism may govern the Democratic hosts when they assemble on the 7th day of July. They have it within their power to perpetuate the only existing party whereby rights of the great masses may be pro-tected and preserved; or they have it petuate the only existing party whereby the rights of the great masses may be protected and preserved; or they have it equally within their power to destroy its usefulness for years, and, mayhan, forever. The people of this country have forgiven the Democratic party much in days gone by; but will they ever foreive it if, in contention and animosity, it fritters away the opportunity of to-day?"

He quoted Senator Chandler of New Hampshire upon the methods of collecting funds for carrying on the Republican campaign, and also a statement attributed to Thomas C. Platt, in admonition to the Republican party that it should find "their candidate is one who will take office with the confidence of the country, and not with its apprenension and distrust; who is known to be a free agent and not mortgaged up to his eyes with pledges that can never be performed and expectations that can never be satisfied."

He made mention of the labor troubles which Mr. Hanna has contended with, and concluded:

"The Democratic party deserves success because it stands for the great common reople. Those whom the Lord must love, said Araham Lincoin, 'because he made so many of them.' It stands for a just, unburdensome revenue, and a revenue-producing tariff. It opposes paternalism, sectionalism, monopoly, and pintecracy. It defends home rule, both North and South, it is ready to restore economical appropriations and to continue economical administration. It will uphold both of those metals which the Constitution prescribes for the coluage, and it is the only party which can do so with safety to business, benefit to the laborer and producer, and honor to the country. "It is ready to violate the national dignity, abroad, to carry our flag to the uttermost ends of the carth, and to perpetuate the Monorea and producer and honor to the country." It is ready to wind party to-day stands for the coluage, and it is the only party which can do so with safety to business, benefit to the laborer and producer and honor to the country.

16 GRACE MEN AT SARATOGA.

19 Assembly Districts in the City Elected Tammany Men Only,

Only sixteen of the 105 delegates from this city to the Democratic State Convention are whom were members of the Grace-Fairchild State Democracy. These sixteen are William s. Turner, Daniel E. Dowling, Theodore Surro, Charles J. Canda, Thomas F. Keating, Thomas Costigan, William C. Whitney, Maurice J. Power, George Walten Green, Daniel O'Conneil, Dr. Joseph H. Schner, Henry De Forest Haldwin, Robert Grier Mohroe, Francis M. Scott, John M. Tracy, and Edward B. Amend. Nineteen districts did not comply with the rest of the leaders and send State Hemocracy men. Eight of these were districts whose leaders are friendly to County Clerk Henry D. Purroy, who declared against the policy of the leaders in this regard and criticised it openly at the last meeting of the Tammany Hail Executive Committee. The leaders in the other eleven districts say that they scoured their districts and were unable to find any anti-Tammany Democrats.

Although Chairman Hinkley of the Demo cratic State Committee said the other day that he had secured the promise of ex-Mayor Grace to accept election as a delegate to the Demogratic National Convention, it was announced yesteriny that the local bemocracy has a new candidate for the fourth place as delegate at large. Frederic A. Conder Is the man, and he will have the full support of the Tammany Hall delegation. If Mr. Grace goes it will be as a district delegate.

Maurice B. Blumenthal, one of the Tammany Hall delegates to the Democratic State Convenagreed to urge the Convention to deciare in favor of the Chicago straddle platform of 1892. He says that the merchants and property own-ers of the Tweith Senate district, at a meeting held on last Friday night, adorted a resolution requesting him to do so.

Landlord John O'Rourke's Way of Evicting Tenants Leads to a Ruction. Hogan's alley, a narrow lane between the tenements 246 and 248 Hailroad avenue, Jersey City, has been a scene of commotion for two days on account of an original method adopted by John O'Rourke, the owner of the houses, to evict some tenants. The alley got its name from a former owner of the property, and it has been famous for the superiority of its mixed ale parties. Then, too, the prettiest girls in the block congregated there with their fellows on off nights, when there were no picnics or sociables, and sung or danced to music forced out of a mouth harmonicon. Occasionally an accordion took the place of the harmonicon, but such occasions were rare and convulsing Hogan's alley.

Mr. O'Rourke occupies the top floor of 246, and he has very nicely furnished apartments. He is perfectly satisfied with the tenants in that house, but he says that the tenants of 248 have been a holy terror to him. They only laugh at dispossess warrants and writs of evic-tion. No. 248 is a two-story frame house. The tion. No. 248 is a two-story frame house. The cellar is filled with lemons stored there by a peddler. The first floor is untenanted. One side of the second floor is occupied by James (attas Flash) Cutley and his wife. Mrs. Cutley is also known as Mrs. Ryan. The occupants of the other side are a man named McGovern, who is known as "Fight" McGovern, and his two sons. He had a daughter living there, but she went away. The Cutleys and McGovern are on very sociable terms. They take turns in sending the growler cut to be filled, and they often entertain company.

cut to be filled, and they often entertain company.

After long and thoughtful deliberation Mr. O'Rourke decided upon a plan of eviction. He notified the Cutleys and the McGoverns that he was about to renovate the house throughout and they would have to vacate. He threatened, if they refused, to puil the house down. His tenants only laughed at him.

Mrs. Cutley, a large woman, who is usually attired in a very light and airy costume, leaned out of the window and sang the refrain of Lottie Gilson's popular song, "Arrah go on, you're only foolin".

Mr. O'Rourke was not fooling. He engaged a carpenter on Friday and set him to work lear-out of the window and sang the refrain of Lottie Gilson's popular song, "Arrah go on, you're only foolin."

Mr. O'Rourke was not fooling. He engaged a carpenter on Friday and set him to work tearing down the stairs leading to the second floor. These stairs were on the ontside of the building and in a very rickety condition. The first blow of the carpenter's hammer was the signal for the opening of hostilities. Mrs. Cutley appeared, at the door on the second story, and, it is said, shied a brick at the carpenter thrown at him, but, so far as could be learned, he was not hit. He was a plucky man and persisted in his work. Mrs. Cutley was reenforced by her hushand and a couple of the Metoverns. They bombarded the carpenter with plaster torn from the wails, with pleese of broken furniture, and even with crockery and iron pots.

The earpenter was obliged to retreat two or three times by the heavy fusilading, but he returned and resumed work. Finally the stairs fell with a crash, leaving nothing but a broad plank projecting in front of the door on the second story. Then the carpenter went away.

The elder McGovern, who was not on hand when the battle opened, returned about this time and surveyed the situation. The carrison up stairs talked with him from the door and windows. McGovern proved himself to be a man of resources. He procured a ladder, raised it to the clevated doorway, and thus restored communication with the outer world.

The growier was worked with more than the usual industry. The partison was not to be caught narping, however. As soon as a can of beer was taken up the ladder, the ladder was pilled up so as to be out of reach of the enemy. When it was necessary for anybody to go down to have the growder filled, or for any other purpose, the ladder was pulled up and not lowered until the person who had gone out returned. This condition of affairs continued through the might have organized some flank movement.

The only claude was pulled up and not lowered until the person was not for the accommodation of

WISCONSINS VISIT POUGHKEEPSIE. Crews in Training Take Their Final Spine

POUGHREEPSIE, June 20.- This was the hot test day the crews have had, and the mercury was playing around the 100 mark all day long; but in spite of the intense heat Coach Courtney took advantage of the strong ebb tide and had which probably grew out of the fact that J. W. McColloh, Commodore of the Cornell navy, sent a telegram to the Wisconsin crew inviting them to stop over at Poughkeepsie on their way West to view the preliminary work of the crews, and offered to piace the Cornell launch at their disposal: The Wiscensins, numbering eighteen men headed by Coach Andy Odea, arrived here at noon on the drawing-room car Chicago, which has been their home since they left Wisconsin. They boarded the Cornell launch and were taken around to all the quarters. They left town on are vening train.

The training was practically finished to-night, as the crews will do little more than short spins to keen in form for the race days.

The betting is not very spirited at present, but the prospects are that Harvard will be the favorlie in both races. Freshman substitute Henry Sampson of Harvard was in town to-day with $100 which he wanted to beton the Harvard treshmen against the field. He found no takers.

There was a meeting of the local committee and the representatives of the colleges at 10 o'clock to-night. The oarsinen were represented by Manager George Blacdon for Harvard, Thomas Reath for Pennsylvania, Guy Richards for Columbia, and J. W. McCullough for Cornell nell.

The college representatives drew for positions in both the freshmen and varsity races with the following results: Harvard, No. 1; Pennsylvania, No. 2; Cornell, No. 3, and Columbia, No. 4. The positions are numbered from west to east.

Referee Rives announced that the races will be started at 5:30 each afternoon, sharp. The course will be booyed off by anchored sail bears with four lanes, and suspended from the big bridge will be four targets, one for each coxswain to be guided by.

MONTEZUMAS RAIDED AGAIN.

Police Get 29 Prisoners, Poker Chips, Fare Boxes, and One Dollar.

Walter L. Haker, a colored man, of 3 Minetta street, was induced by a friend Friday night to enter the rooms of the Montezuma Club, on the parlor floor of 198 Bleecker street. White there he lost $40 playing poker, which made him very sad, as he had a wife at home waiting for the money.

As he was going out be met "Hank" Ander son, the reputed proprietor, on the stoop, and to him he related his woes. Anderson told Hake that he was no sport, and punched him in the face. For revenge Baker went to the Mercer street station and told Acting Captain Groe all about the gambling features of the Montezuma

Tuo.

Last night the place was raided. At 11 o'clock we policemen in plain clothes, jumped, from a two policemen in plain clothes, jumped from Bieckler street car he it was passing the clu and, running up the steep, yanked Anderson the aidewalk before he could give the alorm the sidewalk before he could give Whe alarm to the immates by means of an electric mush burton on the door post. A swarm of nolicemen, headed by Cank. Groot descended on the place and captured twenty-nine men, mostly colored, whom they found in the rooms. They also selzed several thousand poker chips and three fare dealing boxes. Only $1 in cash was found in the place. The prisoners were all locked up in the Mercer street station. The club has been raided before.

The reason for this was that many of the riders were anxious to catch the 7:00 train northward. In front of the Ocean Hotel the riders were received by many prominent citizens, who cheered as they rode by. In the party were

In September they propose riding on their bicycles from Keyport to Chicago, a distance of 1,000 miles. Miss Carpenter of Rahway was another young rider. Senator Bradley placed his Roman pool bath at the service of the survivors, and many of them took a plunge in the chilly waters. To-sight they are the guests of the Aslaury Park Wheelmen.

The Hackensack wheelmen had the largest number of survivors and will be awarded the banner. They finished seventy-eight men. There is some talk of a protest being made against them, on the ground that they made an independent run and did not keep with the other riders. There is no rule governing this question. The Montelair wheelmen had fifty riders at the finish and will be awarded second prize.

Machilds apparently didn't appreciate the speed of the cars at the curve. He wheeled serenely southward, feeling certain that he would cross the track before the car got around the curve. He didn't quite do it. The car hit the rear wheel of his bike and sent him headlong on the stones. He was picked up unconscious and taken into be Loughry's drug store at the corner, where a dozen or more unlucky wheelmen have had their hurts patched up. There were no bones broken and no bruises apparent, but Mr. Childs seemed to be seriously injured. He was taken to Recsevelt Hospital. It was said there that he was suffering merely from shock, and that he would be out in adapted.
